Tactical EQ⁴ Policing Advanced: Level I One-Day Certification

Course Objectives:

This is an Advanced: Level I course for senior law enforcement professionals with at least three (3) years of military or police operational field experience.

Featuring new brain training techniques for calming and arousal control, this course outlines how to improve the neural connections in the brain, sharpening the officer's ability for rapid threat recognition.

Recent breakthroughs in neuro- and brain science have proven that observation-skills can improve performance on the job and quality of life off the job. Pioneered by the US Dept. of Defense, this workshop focuses on the critical thinking skills an officer has to effectively utilize training for effective communication, crisis intervention and de-escalation.

A 70% completion on the written test and lab is required for a passing score and certification.

1. Emotional Quotient – Introduction to the science of training the brain featuring the US Department of Defense Brain Training Techniques “Big4” (Navy Seals).
2. Self Awareness & Self Regulation Skill Sets – An officer's heart rate and breathing patterns are critical indicators of personal stress levels, too much or too little can impact an officer's state of mind and ability to perform as trained; learn hands on techniques to ensure accurate self-assessment prior to engaging a crisis situation.
